

APE Logbook of Experience in Architectural Practice

AACA has been advised that the 80 page APE logbook published prior to 21 July 2011 has not been operating correctly for pages beyond page 40.

A new 80 page logbook, dated 21 July 2011, has been placed on the AACA website.

No action is required if your completed logbook will require 40 pages or less.

If your completed logbook will require over 40 pages and you have been using the 80 page version, published prior to 21 July 2011, please carefully follow the instructions below:

- Download and save, under a new file name, a copy of the logbook dated 21st July 2011
- Complete the ID form in you new logbook.
- You can then go to each page of your original logbook, copy the relevant grey-shaded fields, and paste them into the relevant page of your new logbook until each page has been completed. (NB. Whole pages cannot effectively be copied across)

Your logbook may then be submitted to the relevant Architect Registration Board in accordance with their requirements.
